

WORK OR FIGHT RULE VIOLATED

Sixteen Fail to Report to Exemption Board Regarding Regulation Established.

ARE SUBJECT TO INDUCTION

Officials Will Act Unless Conscription Appear Immediately to Explain Status.

Exemption board officials today gave out the names of 16 men who failed to appear the first of this week to give reasons why they are not usefully employed.

It is said that several notices sent out to these men were returned to the board, but others evidently found their destinations as they did not come back.

Notice is given these men that in case they do not report to the board within reasonable time they will be drafted into the service. The board states that notification through the newspapers is sufficient to hold the men responsible for reporting and immediate action will be taken in cases where men persist in remaining away from the board headquarters after they have been notified to give reasons why they are not employed at a useful occupation. Names of men who did not report are appended: Elbert E. Scott, Arvil Williams, Glenn Brown, Harry A. Singer, Warren Van Buren, Charles A. Reagan, Russell M. Renstrom, Leo Rice, Adolph Hermann Levin, Sanford Katz, Daniel F. Jensen, Fritz Johnson, Henry Dwyer, Abe Durechlag, Frank S. Bennett and Clement K. Hoskins.

The board has received a report from the district board at Peoria on subject of registrants. The district board has upheld the local board on appeals made by three 1918 registrants and eight 1917 men who had been reclassified. These men are now finally placed in class I.

Classifications given by the local board to three 1918 men and four 1917 reclassified registrants were overruled by the district board.

Men who had been reclassified by the local board and put in class I, and who have been placed back in their original classes by the district board, are: Homer F. Hunkler, Carl R. Dickman, Herbert C. All and Clarence J. Staschowski.

The 1918 men on whom rulings by the local board were reversed by the district board are: Arthur C. Kells, William Edward Klawnow and Guy Ghendler Walker.

Young men who have become 21 years of age since the registration held June 5, 1918, will register at the local exemption board headquarters tomorrow. The board rooms will be open from 7 in the morning until 5 p. m. All 1918 registrants will have charge of the registrations, and it is expected that 75 young men will be registered for the draft tomorrow.

With Islanders In the Service

The turning point in the great German drive produced by a veritable rain of lead and steel from French and American guns, is eloquently described in a letter to friends here from Private Rex Thompson, a former Rock Island boy, now in the ambulance service in France. He says in part:

"We have just come back from the front, and I am taking this opportunity to answer all the letters I have received. I am writing this at 'Foyer du Soldat,' in other words a Franco-American canteen and writing room. There are no pens, so I am using a pencil instead."

"I suppose you have been reading the papers and know that a good many things of importance are occurring now on the battlefields of France. We have been on two different sectors of this front and took part in one of the great battles of the war. There was terrible fighting, and I think that we can truly say that we know now what a great European battle-field looks like. I worked quite a considerable length of time on the front line with a regiment whose name is now famous all over France, and I saw the great German drive falter and go to pieces before such a rain of lead and steel as I had never dreamed possible."

"There were nights in the woods that reminded one of great, roaring infernos. Continual showers of high explosive shells shook the ground and filled the air with debris. I came back without a scratch, although many of my comrades had not so lucky. It certainly is some life. Each man had a little hole dug for himself to afford some protection from flying shrapnel and here he stayed. Medical men had to leave their shelters, however, to care for the wounded. We passed many such nights in the woods fighting with sudden death."

"The continued hammering that one gets from the enemy artillery keeps your nerves continually at high tension. I have seen more than one man so tired and worn that finally his nerves reached the snapping point and he went temporarily crazy, 'emotional insanity' is the army term for such an occurrence."

"That is all a thing of the past for me, for a while at least, as we have been taken out for a rest and now will have time to eat, sleep and clean up a little. Men fresh from the trenches are a thoroughly disreputable looking lot; clothes torn and plastered with mud and blood, leggings in tatters, face and hands covered with dirt and grime, and long whiskers, just it doesn't take long to change, once back in rest camp."

"We are at quite a fair sized town now, away from the rumble and roar of the guns. It certainly seems good to be away from them for a while. After being in for a long time you get so that you just hate the sound of the big guns. We surely have done some hiking during the last few months. Every time we move we hike. Some days we have walked between 20 and 40 miles, and I am here to say that is some drag."

"I would like to get somewhere where I could get a good time for once. In the zone of advance there is very little going on in the amusement line, even in the larger towns, as lots of the places of business are closed up, and many of the inhabitants gone. I surely do long to be back in the states, at least, but the war will end some day, and then when the soldiers come marching back (those who don't get killed over here), they will have some glorious times."

"I suppose lots of the girls back home will have slacker friends by that time, but none of the boys want that kind of a girl anyway, so we'll be happy just the same."

"We have certainly seen a lot of France since we have been here, though most of it was while we were moving from one front to another, as we haven't been away from the zone of advance for months now. I think I will stop and go down to the palatial quarters which I have in a nearby town, called a 'billet' by the French, who are strong for high sounding names."

DOCTORS MAKE IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

They Take the Public in Their Confidence.

Reliable physicians believe that broken down nerve tissues need a brace but a builder like Phosphates and Iron. To get these essential food tones to the nerves has long been the big question.

A successful physician says, "Phosphated Iron is an especially adapted discovery that has solved the problem of giving Phosphates and Iron in such a way that the nervous system can actually take hold of it."

Another, an equally important mission of Phosphated Iron is to build up anemic (thin, weak, watery) blood by charging it with good health-giving iron.

A leading doctor says, "Phosphated Iron is the best iron tonic that I have ever prescribed, its results are remarkable."

Strengthening the nerves, building up their starved tissues and recharging weak, watery blood with the great health restoratives, Iron and Phosphates is the mission of Phosphated Iron. You who are nervous, weak, anemic (lack of iron in the blood), all in, and run down cannot afford to turn down the help that Phosphated Iron offers.

Special—To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine, in capsules only. A. J. Riess and leading druggists everywhere.—(Adv.)

RED CROSS NEEDS 300 WOMEN AUTO DRIVERS AT ONCE

Three hundred women motor drivers for overseas service in France are wanted by the American Red Cross within the next six months. The recruiting of these drivers will begin immediately. It is expected the first contingent will sail about Oct. 1 for motor messenger service, ambulance service and, to a limited extent, for camion service.

Candidates for this service will be selected from the American Red Cross motor corps in all cities where such motor corps now exist. Volunteers for this work are sought and the candidate must meet the requirements for this overseas duty as set forth by the war department—25 years of age, loyal and healthy. The American Red Cross will pay the transportation, and, if necessary, the volunteers will be given an allowance of 450 francs a month for expenses when out of Paris.

Impoverished Blood

Here's Proof That Vinol Enriches the Blood.

Bradford, Pa.—"I have used Vinol for impoverished blood. I was broiled out with a rash and run down so it was hard for me to keep about my work. After trying Beef, Iron and Wine and other medicines without benefit Vinol enriched my blood and improved my condition very rapidly."—Rose Lasky.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success in such cases to beef, cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body building and strength creating tonics. where they will be employed principally, and 600 francs a month for expenses when in Paris.

Special qualifications for this service are: Certificate of the first division Red Cross motor corps ambulance and truck driver, or successful passing of examination in mechanics and first aid as specified for American Red Cross first aid division motor ambulances and truck drivers. Women desiring to volunteer for this service are requested to make application at once to their local captain of the American Red Cross chapter motor corps, where such corps exists, or to the director of motor corps of central division, Chicago. Additional calls for women drivers will likely follow.
